HUSBAND RETAINS DIARY

Knight Ends Name-Calling If Case Continues

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12—(UP)—Despite terrific pressure from leaders of the movie industry, Mary Astor and her former husband Dr. Franklin Thorpe, bogged down early today in their efforts to settle their differences privately, out of court.

The red-headed film star was unmistakably angry and determined after a series of conferences between her counsel and counsel for Dr. Thorpe. She said:

"All I can say is that it looks like I will have to go on fighting."

She already had braved scandal of the type that has ruined careers of other celluloid heroines, and her friends did not doubt her ability to fight to the bitter end over the one issue said still to remain—the custodianship of her diary, in which she described extra-marital love affair with George S. Kaufman, the playwright, with many allusions, of a nature unknown, to persons prominent in the movie world.

Report to Court

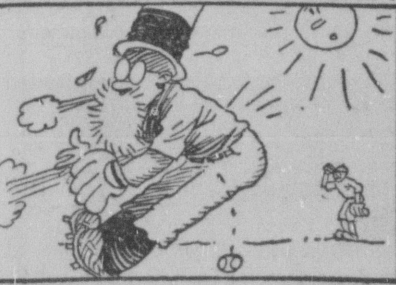

Today the rival attorneys will appear before Judge Goodwin J. Knight to report on the progress of negotiations the court ordered yesterday. It may be that he may persuade one side or the other to give ground, or the attorneys may settle the issue before they meet him. But if both fail, the trial will go on — with the name-calling and the "mud-slinging" rigidly curtailed by Judge Knight.

Miss Astor and Dr. Thorpe were reported to have agreed tentatively.

Arrangement was made for a luncheon aboard the showboat Moses Cleaveland, moored at a pier abutting from the exposition grounds on Cleveland's lake front. The president's visit coincides with the opening session of the convention in Cleveland of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin's National Union for Social Justice, transferring the spotlight from that group for the day.

M'PHERSON ACTS TO END BOGGS MOUND PROTEST

Curator Of State History Society Says Removal Is Only Temporary

NEW FOUNDATION PLANNED

Careful Study Made Before Improvements Started

COLUMBUS, Aug. 12—(UP)—The Boggs family monument will not be removed from Logan Elm state park in Pickaway county, Harry R. McPherson, curator of parks of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society, said today.

Will J. Graham, Circleville mayor, had protested against removal of the monument, in memory of the family which donated the land on which the state park is located, in a telegram to Governor Davey.

Removal Temporary

McPherson said the monument had been removed only temporarily because of a WPA improvement project. He said the monument would be restored not more than 10 feet from its original site. It will have a new foundation.

Careful consideration to the improvement project was given by the society, according to McPherson.

Governor Davey made no comment on the matter.

RAIN AIDS FORESTS

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 12—(UP)—Light showers fell in the Superior National forests today, abating the threat of fires in the 2,800,000 acre stand of virgin and second growth timber but a new fire raged in Wisconsin.

The naming of Commander Yosiyuki Itimiya and Lieutenant Commander Akira Yamaki, Japanese naval officers transferred from the United States a year ago, created a sensation in diplomatic circles.

The government brought the names of the two Japanese into new indictments returned against Farnsworth by the District of Columbia grand jury. Although mentioned, neither was indicted.

The new indictment—in addition to the one returned a month ago—was not specific. It merely charged Farnsworth had given the Japanese agents certain information—"codebooks, signal books, sketches, photographs, blueprints, plans, maps and models."

Borah, Robinson Lead In Primary Elections

Idaho Man Leading Townsend-Backer Opponent, While Roosevelt Supporter Runs Well; Next Florida Solon Pensionite

BY UNITED PRESS

Two senate veterans—William C. Borah and Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas—seemed assured of renomination today as returns from yesterday's primaries were counted.

Borah seemed a certain victor over one opponent, running with the backing of the Townsend Old Age pension organization, in the Idaho Republican primary.

Robinson won over two opponents in the Arkansas Democratic primary.

In Florida, the Townsend organization scored a win when its candidate, Judge Charles O. Andrews, won the Democratic nomination for the senate seat vacated by the death of Park A. Trammell. In Florida, the Democratic nomination is equivalent to election.

Borah had 3,091 votes to 1,335 for Bryon Defenbach, his Townsend-backed opponent, in returns from 16 of the state's 44 counties.

Defenbach is a conservative Republican who yesterday was nominated by a state Townsend convention to assure him a place on the November ballot in event of his defeat by Borah.

Gov. C. Ben Ross led in the Democratic senatorial race. Ross has predicted that he would give Borah "A bad licking" in November. He was opposed in the primary by John C. Carver, blind U. S. district attorney.

Robinson 26,932. Cleveland Holland 7,405. J. Rosser Venable 4,309.

Robinson ran as a New Deal candidate. His opponents charged that he had "tied himself onto the tails of the Roosevelt Administration."

Judge Andrews, of Orlando, defeated former Gov. Doyle E. Carlton. Carlton conceded his defeat early today when the United Press tabulation of 933 of the 1,326 precincts gave Andrews 56,477, Carlton 52,764.

Butler and Brown slid to the ground, and have burns on their hands to prove the speed with which they slid to safety. The scaffold was destroyed.

They were taken to the office of Dr. Howard Jones and treated, before going home.

No damage was done to the school building.

PHILLIPS TELLS NATION'S STAND IN REVOLUTION

American Interests Asked To Refuse Orders That Would Continue War

GERMANY EXPRESSES FEAR

Von Ribbentrop Tells Brits Russia's Army Dangerous

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—(UP)—The United States today took the lead in an international movement to localize the civil war in Spain with a forthright declaration of this government's strict neutrality.

This pronouncement, made with diplomatic finesse to avoid formal recognition that a state of civil war exists in Spain, was made public here while the governments of Europe still were wrangling over proposals for joint action by Spain's neighbors to declare themselves neutral.

The state department already has begun exertion of "moral suasion" to discourage American firms from selling or exporting war materials to either faction in Spain. Several American airplane manufacturing concerns were believed to have been dissuaded from accepting orders for airplanes from the warring Spanish factions.

Revealed by Phillips

The government's attitude and policy regarding the Spanish revolution was revealed by the state department in making public a circular of instruction sent by Acting Secretary of State William Phillips on Aug. 7 to all American diplomatic and consular representatives in Spain. In this circular Phillips declared that "this government's position thus far has been and will continue to be" one of "non-interference with internal affairs in other countries, either in time of peace or in the event of civil strife."

"This government," he declared, "will, of course, scrupulously refrain from any interference whatsoever in the unfortunate Spanish situation."

NEGRO TO CLAIM INSANITY LED TO CO-ED'S MURDER

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 12—(UP)—An insanity plea for Martin Moore will be made next Tuesday when the lanky, 22-year-old negro goes to trial on a charge of slaying Helen Clevenger, 19-year-old New York co-ed.

J. S. Styles, Asheville attorney named to aid in the defense of Moore, said today he will ask Judge Donald Phillips to permit two alienists to examine the negro.

The Ducombe county grand jury will meet Monday and Moore is expected to go to trial before Judge Phillips Tuesday on charges of first degree murder and first degree burglary.

Court attaches do not believe the trial will be delayed by the insanity plea, however.

Sheriff Laurence E. Brown announced Sunday that the negro confessed going into the co-ed's hotel room early July 16, shooting and beating her when she screamed. The sheriff will question Moore further today to learn whether he intended to assault the girl. Moore has maintained that he entered her room only for robbery.

GREEN'S LABOR BOARD TO KEEP ITS NEUTRALITY

Federation Is Non-Partisan President Tells Newsmen In An Interview

LEWIS FAVORING F.D.R.

Data To Be Sent To Unions To Determine Own Stand

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(UP)—President William Green declared the neutrality of the American Federation of Labor in the national election today.

The federation will cling to its traditional nonpartisan policy despite the efforts of the non-partisan labor league to organize a labor front for the re-election of President Roosevelt, and despite the raising of the labor issue against Gov. Alf M. Landon by John L. Lewis, George L. Berry and other labor leaders, Greene said in an interview.

Contrasts Others
His insistence on the federation's strict non-political status was in sharp contrast to the anti-Landon speeches by Lewis, Berry, Sidney Hillman and others before the newly formed pro-Roosevelt league at its first national convention here this week.

Green made it plain the league could make no claim of general federation backing.

"The American Federation of Labor is not in the league," he said. "What the federation is doing this year is to pursue its own non-partisan political policy."

"He will not formally endorse any candidate this fall. Our non-partisan committee will merely prepare parallel reports on the labor records of the two chief candidates and of the platforms."

"We will send out all data to our membership. They will have to make up their own minds."

Green said procedure of the federation had been decided last year at its convention.

"The Atlantic City convention decided officially that we would pursue a non-partisan political policy," he said.

STATUS OF OHIO FAIR WAGE CODE SEEN UNCERTAIN

COLUMBUS, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Whether minimum wage scales for women and minors employed in Ohio hotels and restaurants will be enforced under a mandatory order after October 1, is an undecided question, O. B. Chapman, state director of industrial relations, indicated today.

The wage scale now is fixed by a directory order, which took effect July 1. The only penalty for violation is official publication of the names of employers who fail to comply with the directory order.

After this order has been operative for three months, the director of industrial relations is permitted but not required to make it mandatory of a mandatory order are subject to fine or imprisonment.

Chapman said he will decide his course later with regard to possible issuance of a mandatory order.

"Knock, Knock" Craze Is Sweeping Over City

Knock, knock, who's there?

It's all very confusing.

First there was the chain letter dilemma. Everybody was dashing off five copies and foisting off rewrites to relatives. All operated on the old swimming hole principle of "last one in the water is an old maid," or get your dime and to heck with the others.

Then John Public became obsessed with the "handies" craze. Staid front porch rockers with a profound penchant for thumb twiddling suddenly discovered they could make "Gosh, what is it?" gestures to the befuddlement of unsuspecting friends.

These friends in turn pounced on other persons and repeated such motions as depicting broken photograph records, rain falling and grass growing, etc. Gradually the foolishness disappeared, but not until many stolid citizens practically went off the deep end of bersekniss.

Now comes "knock, knock."

Musicians Lead
The primary perpetrators are orchestra leaders and musicians at large. The business starts off with a song in which a double thump on a mythical door is intoned. A chorus immediately responds "Who's there?" The leader retorts "Luther." He is queried "Luther who?" and stooges lispily swing back with "Luthers weepers, finders keepers," and the name symphony is on.

Other sequences which are filling the radio loudspeakers of the land with sudden puns and the listeners hearts with mayhem go as follows: "Knock, knock, who's there?" "Andy." "Andy who?" "Andy down my walking cane."

Again, "Who's there?" "Oscar." "Oscar who?" "Osk he no questions, she'll tell you no lies."

Thus far into many stanzas the dizzy choruses repeat with alleged witticisms tacked on to every modern song title, motto or what's available.

No Defense
Now with the chain letter plague there was a defense. The chaineer could always sneak his own name in at the top of the list and forget about forwarding the dime of the ex-top name.

Likewise with "handies" the subject could counter with "What's this?" and poke his finger in the perpetrator's eye or wear horse blinders. But against the "knock, knock," craze there seems to be no pain killer as the insane queries can sneak in over the radio or be heard shouted from passing automobiles.

Anyhow, when somebody croons "Knock, knock, who's there?" you might try the evasive reply, "nobody home" and run like everything.

Details for the Junior Fair poster contest, conducted as a part of the annual Pumpkin Show, were announced Wednesday by George McDowell, Junior Fair director.

Two sets of premiums will be given, one for high school entries, the other for grades 5 to 8 inclusive. They are $2, $1.25, 75 cents, 65 cents and 35 cents.

All posters must advertise the Junior Fair, carrying the dates of the Pumpkin Show and the name of the building in which the fair is held. They may be colored or illustrated either by original work or pictures taken from publications.

Uniform Size Fixed
The size of the poster must be 14 by 22 inches. They must be on display in a store window or public place at least 15 days prior to the Pumpkin show. Pupils must put their names, postoffice address and school grade on the back of their posters.

All posters entered must be sent to the county school superintendent's office by Wednesday noon Oct. 21. Prize posters will be exhibited at the Junior Fair. They must not be removed before 5 p. m. on Oct. 24.

Judging will be on the basis of 50 points for advertising value, 30 points for originality of design and 20 points for workmanship.

FARM NEWS

Brief Items of Interest to Pickaway Farmers

Lawrence county farmers who had clover seedlings killed by hot, dry weather, are asking county Agricultural agent Stanley Porter for information on ways to reseed the fields to comply with regulations of the soil conservation program.

Only two reactors were discovered in testing 2,492 Crawford county cattle for bovine tuberculosis. The report covers two townships where the testing has been completed. County Agent Russell L. Miller reports two additional veterinarians are now engaged in testing cattle in the remaining townships.

The 1936 crop of green peas will make a pack of about 17,000,000 cases of No. 2 cans, as compared with 24,698,000 cases picked from the 1935 crop. There is some carryover of last year's pack to partially offset the reduction. The Ohio crop of green peas was short along with that of the other principal producing states except Oregon and Washington where conditions were favorable.

Failure to inoculate seeds of legumes before planting them is responsible for many failures to get seedlings, according to R. H. Morrish, agronomist, Soil Conservation Service, Zanesville. The cost of inoculating seed enough to plant an acre of ground is only a few cents, and seed should be treated unless the ground has previously produced a successful crop of the legume. Vetch and alfalfa need inoculation as well as clover and alfalfa.

Remember When?

Local Eagles lodge was organized.

Circleville Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles received its charter June 1, 1904. Eighty-three members were initiated at the first initiation. First officers were George M. Fitzpatrick, president; John A. Dodd, secretary, and W. H. Mason, treasurer.

OHIOANS OBTAIN MORE CASH FOR SUPPLY OF EGGS

COLUMBUS, Aug. 12.—Ohio potato growers should remember that although the plants make little growth in hot weather, the new growth which will start rapidly in cool periods will need the protection of the proper sprays.

The old formulae for bordeaux mixtures to be used in Ohio are still recommended by E. B. Tusing, specialist in vegetable crops, Ohio State University. The spray mixtures which are being used by growers in other states have not been tested thoroughly in this state and the differences in air temperatures may make them less efficient here.

A 4-4-50 bordeaux mixture or a 4-6-50 mixture made with hydrated lime has been proved satisfactory for use in Ohio. Calcium arsenate should be added to the bordeaux mixture if flea beetles are present in the potato fields. Growers who apply dusts should use a 20-80 mixture.

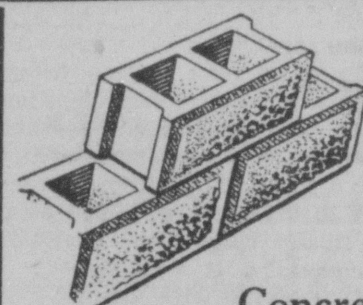

None of the sprays do much unless the nozzles of the sprayer are adjusted so the protective materials are placed on the vines. Every grower should check the adjustment of his sprayer to find how much spray is being thrown on the plants and how much is applied on the ground.

The most recent estimate of the 1936 potato yield places the harvest as the smallest since 1925. It seems probable that the price for potatoes this year will be good enough so that an effort should be made to protect the plants as much as possible from insect and disease injury.

STATE WORKERS TAKE WATER TO FOUR COUNTIES

State highway employees are hauling water to four Pickaway county farms this week. They reported their "drought customers" are William Statler, Mt. Sterling, R. F. D.; James Hatfield, Five Points; Otis Leist and Owen Morris, both of Pickaway township.

The water is being obtained at the Sturm & Dillard plant.

"AS MAINE GOES"
MAINE will vote September 8 for Governor, United States senator and three members of the House of Representatives, and the consequences is that between now and then the state will reverberate to oratory by outside national speakers of both parties. It is a racket. The early Maine election puts the major parties on the quiver. That is because of the old, but undemonstrable, adage, "As Maine goes, so goes the Presidential election." Therefore the national committees pour in speakers and the state committees are so much in pocket.

Professor Claude E. Robinson of Columbia University in June, 1932, published a long and analytical article in The Political Science Quarterly to demonstrate reliance on the prophecy was not to be had. Along came September. Maine went Democratic with a whoop and two months later Roosevelt won. The prophecy worked that time anyway.
So it has worked seventeen out of twenty-four times in the elections from 1840 to 1932, inclusive. There is, however, a joker in it. Maine is normally a strongly Republican state just as the country since 1856, or over a period of eighty years, has been normally Republican. Other states might be taken as goosebones for prophecy with just as substantial justification. The only reason they are not is the simple one their votes are not recorded until the Presidential votes are.

There is, of course, a psychological merit, but not a measurable one, in getting Maine to go the way of one's own party. That vests in the hope that a certain element of the electorate, which follows the trend and wants to be jubilant on election night as supporters of the winning side, may be influenced. This accounts for the fact, among others, that in the eighteen years between 1910 and 1928 the hardened Maine voters had to listen to three former Presidents or Vice Presidents, forty-three United States senators, thirteen Cabinet officers, 138 representatives in Congress, twenty-two Governors and others too numerous to name.

LARGEST in area and most thinly populated of the Central American republics. Nicaragua stands forth as having the right idea about glorifying the Nicaraguan girl according to the American standard. Cigarettes have increased tenfold in sales among the fair sex by the adoption of American methods in advertising, with beauty contests and all among the young ladies who affect the weed and the grand prize a chance to go to Hollywood as guest of a film company in the hope of breaking into the movies.
All sorts of methods have been followed to attain this laudable object, but smok-

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

DEMOCRAT'S DRAFTING OF MURPHY
WASHINGTON — When President Roosevelt brought High Commissioner Frank Murphy back from the Philippine Islands and persuaded him to run for Governor of Michigan, Democratic strategists purred with satisfaction.

Young, able, popular, the red-headed Irishman has been a powerful vote-getter in Wayne County, which includes Detroit. The name Murphy has worked miracles in the county; at least fourteen office-holders owe their election to his endorsement.

With Murphy heading the state ticket, New Dealers figured that the chances of the President carrying Michigan would be greatly enhanced. This was a reasonable conjecture, but reason doesn't always rule in politics.

When Murphy announced for the governorship with the President's blessing, a mad rush was started by other Irishmen to climb on his bandwagon. The result has been a complete Irish slate, with the single exception of the candidate for U. S. Senator.

But it happens that in Michigan the Poles not only are numerous but politically potent. In 1934 they elected three of their men to Congress from Detroit. And Murphy's all-Irish ticket in the Democratic primary has so infuriated the Poles that they are swearing vengeance.

Republicans, meanwhile, have been quick to take advantage of this threatened split. They are running George W. Welsh, former G. O. P. Lieutenant-Governor, for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination against Murphy.

What will be the outcome of this jumble is anybody's guess. But one thing appears certain. Mr. Murphy's candidacy may not prove the boon the Administration so confidently thought it would be.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE

The criss-crossing of party lines in this year's elections is graphically illustrated by the following:

Joseph N. Pew, of Philadelphia, multimillionaire head of the Sun Oil Company and one of the "Big Three" Republican bosses of Pennsylvania, contributed to the recent campaign to defeat Representative Maury Maverick, militant New Deal Democrat of San Antonio, Tex., in the primary. In other words, Pew, a Republican, put up money to nominate a rival Democrat.

Despite a large fund by utility, oil and other business interests, Maverick beat his Democratic rival by more than 7,000 votes. Although this was 256 votes shy of the plurality necessary to avoid a run-off, Maverick's opponent had had enough and withdrew, thus ensuring Maverick's reelection.

ing cigarettes has not, up to now, been the leading road to fame. There is no basic reason why it should not be, however. Some deeply dyed pessimists have been heard to wonder out loud just why some of our most admired ladies of the screen got where they have, and this may be an answer.

Grasping firmly its nettle, Nicaragua goes American grandly, and results prove the soundness of the theory, at least from the viewpoint of the cigarette company. The nation will await, palpitantly, the final choice of the Nicaraguan Mary Pickford.

World At A Glance

WASHINGTON—Political probabilities lurk back of the labor situation today.
If President Roosevelt is re-elected and it appears that President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers has been a very potent influence in re-electing him, Lewis will be a powerful figure.
Moreover, it will not be hard to surmise how efficiently Lewis succeeds in delivering his organization's vote to President Roosevelt. Its strength is concentrated in certain states and localities. How they go on Nov. 3 will furnish a pretty conclusive test of the reliability of his control over his supposed following.
Incidentally, Lewis hitherto was a Republican.
CONCENTRATED
A labor leadership is more concentrated than any other group leadership.
Farmers are individualistic. They have their "movements," but they do not cast their ballots with any national solidarity. No farmer subscribes to the philosophy of scarcity — except for others. He wants to take advantage of the scarcity to raise, personally, a bumper crop — at scarcity's high price.
Employerdom is vocally impressive but not numerous at the polls. The petty white collar folk (the consumers in general) are split every which-way.
ADVISED HOW TO VOTE
Labor, as marshaled by the A. F. of L., has been pretty cohesive. It has called itself non-partisan. Nevertheless, its premier organ ("Labor"), published in Washington, has made a practice of advising workmen for whom to vote.
"Labor" is published by the railroad brotherhoods, the most important of which are not affiliated with the A. F. of L. It is friendly to the A. F. of L., however — is an A. F. of L. weekly, in effect, if not officially.
NUMBERS INVOLVED
It would not be fair to say that agriculture, capital and the white-collarists, respectively, are all split up, and that labor is not.
Labor is split, but only two ways; it is not dissipated.
The A. F. of L., has had approximately 3,000,000 members. The John L. Lewis faction has detached about 1,000,000. It hopes to add approximately 39,000,000 more — and it may succeed in doing it.
If the Lewis-ites do succeed, the A. F. of L. can only evaporate — a case of malnutrition.
ARISTOCRACY
Listen to the A. F. of L. toller's side of the argument:
He is a craftsman — a skilled worker.
It is proposed to give a wage, proportionate to his own, to a "hunky". As a craftsman he will not agree.
The "hunky", however, refers to the "aristocracy of labor".
FARMER-LABOR ALLIANCE
John L. Lewis' program is to align industrial (his kind of union) with craft unionization and the farmers.
It cannot be done, in all likelihood.
Still, Lewis is trying to combine the groups — a "Farmer-Labor party".
It has been tried previously but never so competently.
If it can be done this time — Watch the workers.

Love isn't Important

By LOUISE JERROLD
COPYRIGHT L. C. PAGE & CO., INC. RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

Mark Vance flew to work.

READ THIS FIRST:
Gay Elwell, check girl in a prominent Detroit club, meets a number of social elite when she fills in at a dinner party at the request of Dr. Wilson, a club member. One is Brock Carter, who is very friendly toward Gay; another, Wayne Adams who is both interested and annoyed by her; and then Christian Scott and Tim Keenan, two millionaires. Tim takes her to his suburban estate and makes suggestions which Gay resents. Tim talks of his engagement to Eleanor Randolph and Gay catters with her philosophy of marriage.
(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 20
TIM SMILED when Gay said "love isn't important." "How young you sound! But have it your own way. Some women just aren't the home-and-fireside type. Eleanor is. She loves children, and she loves making a home. When we get married—" he paused. "When!" he repeated bitterly. "I want sons and daughters of my own—and here's Eleanor wasting the best years of both our lives—putting me off month after month—telling me she loves me, but that I must wait. Wait for what? It's her damnable family pride! She's jealous of the Randolph family reputation!"

He demanded with a sudden fierceness that startled Gay almost out of her chair. "You're jealous, all you women, aren't you?" "Why, yes, I suppose so—" "Then why can't I make Eleanor jealous of me? She's too sure of me. Knows I'm not really serious when I take up with some little—" He paused, his eyes darting toward Gay. "Listen. I have an idea! While she's away on this Paris buying trip, and the North Cape after that—let us play around together. I mean—I'll pretend I'm really falling for you in a big way. We'll play it up strong!" His voice quickened with enthusiasm. "It's not a bad lunch. I know exactly what everyone will say—just another case of a middle-aged man falling head over heels in love with a beautiful working girl." He chuckled. "We might even pretend we're engaged—planning an elopement. Of course, some of Eleanor's good friends will hurry and let her know she's in danger of losing me completely. Get the idea?" Gay laughed, incredulously. "It's impossible, Tim. Too melodramatic." He cried, "Let's give it a try, anyway. Make it a regular business contract. Name your price." Gay shook her head. "It isn't a question of money."

Then the memory of Eleanor Randolph's friendly confidence in a check girl's honesty, in spite of unfavorable evidence, came back vividly to Gay's mind. Impulsively she leaned forward, and linked her hand into Tim's. "I like you—and I admire Miss Randolph more than any woman I've met in Detroit. I'll be willing to do anything I can, to help you two get married." Gay made her first appearance as artist's model on the Tuesday following that momentous visit at Tim Keenan's country estate. She found posing in some ways easier, and in some ways far more difficult, than she had anticipated. The studio was a big, barn-like room which Mark Vance had recently rented, on the top floor of an old house on Rowena street. Much to Gay's disappointment it displayed no tiger rugs, oil paintings, or Russian samovars: it was nothing but a vast expanse of uncarpeted floor space, with a very untidy kitchenette in the far alcove, a huge glass skylight above, and no furniture except two or three battered chairs, a screen, a model's platform, and the easel at which the artist worked. Nothing more different from Gay's romantic conception of an artist's studio could possibly be imagined. When she arrived promptly at three o'clock in the afternoon, Mrs. Vance opened the door. "Come right in, Gay," she said, cordially. "Mark's not here yet,

Poems That Live

THE PINE
The elm lets fall its leaves before the frost,
The very oak grows shivering and sore,
The trees are barren when the summer's lost;
But one tree keeps its goodness all the year.
Green pine, unchanging as the days go by,
Thou art thyself beneath whatever sky:
My shelter from all winds, my own strong pine,
'Tis spring, 'tis summer, still, while thou art mine.

Modern Life Made Easy for Mother

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
THERE WAS a saying in the days of our fathers and grandfathers that, "You can't take care of a baby and do anything else." That of course, has been disproved in thousands of instances by the modern day mother who now earns part of the family income.
But in the days of our grandfathers and fathers, of even very recent date, things were not made so easy for the mother as they are now. Nobody guaranteed good milk, and even if the milk came from a good dairy, it had to be pasteurized and prepared at home. The formulas were unnecessarily cumbersome. Nowadays if she wishes, the young mother can buy canned milk that is every bit as good as fresh, and all she has to do is put the water back into it.
Canned vitamin foods and canned pureed vegetables for the only slightly older baby lessen the household burden.
Play pens and other safety devices, help to let the mother do something besides watch the child every minute.
The clothes question has been greatly simplified—more sensible, simpler, and less clothes, blankets that zipper around the neck and arms and can't be kicked off at night, knitted sheets for the crib that do not have any chill and do not need to be ironed. Many modern parents do not know what it is to be waked up at night.
Laundry Question Solved
Even the diaper and laundry question is solved nowadays in most cities by a diaper service which supplies surgically sterilized diapers, wrapped in cellophane, furnishes a canvas bag for the soiled ones, and makes an exchange three times a week. I should think the mothers of this country would elect the man who had that idea president of the United States, since there seems to be so much complaint about the present candidates.
The humble subject of diapers, unmentionable as it usually is except among the real workers of the world, has, however, been the subject of a good bit of scientific research.
I find the report of Ruth Howard Sayers, in the American Journal of Nursing. She took up the subject of diaper sizes. It must be a great puzzle to beginning mothers to find that diapers run in sizes, and even more puzzling to find different stores recommending different sizes. A Boston store representative says, "This is a 20x40 city," while the San Francisco merchant reports that her town is a 27x27 square. Yet there can't be so very much difference between Boston and San Francisco babies.
If the triangular fold is used (and I understand that it is quite out of fashion) two sizes will be needed—one for the new-born and one for a little later on. With the use of the oblong or Swedish fold, it is usually possible to use one size for this very interesting period in the human being's life—the standard 20x40 inches size. The panel fold, a quite recent innovation, consists in an extra thickness center panel, and can be easily adjusted as the baby grows by simply varying the width of the panel.

Dinner Stories

A woman went into the bank to cash a check that had been made out to her by her husband. The teller said she would have to endorse it but she didn't seem to understand.
"Just sign your name on the back," instructed the teller.
"But my husband has already signed it," she insisted, "and right on the front."
The teller took a deep breath and explained that her signature on the back would show her husband that she had got the money. With a smile of enlightenment she went to the desk, scribbled away and finally handed the check in, triumphantly. It was signed: "Your loving wife, Clara."

Card Club Has Party For Former Members

Mrs. Gephart and Mrs. Coate Honored at Country Club

One of the nicest informal parties held at the Pickaway Country Club this summer was the dessert bridge held Tuesday evening honoring two former residents of Circleville, Mrs. E. I. Gephart of Ash-tabula and Mrs. Lester H. Coate of Columbus.

Hostesses were members of the Monday night card club to which they belonged while living here.

Contract bridge was planned for the evening's entertainment and after several rounds of play the attractive high score prize was awarded Mrs. J. Wray Henry. Mrs. W. H. Nelson was winner of the traveling prize.

Guests included Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Gephart, Mrs. Coate, Mrs. Earl Price, Mrs. Floyd Hook, Mrs. A. H. Rodgers, Mrs. Charles Owens, Mrs. C. G. Chalfin, Mrs. Mary Morris, Miss Blanche Valentine and Miss Nelle Anderson.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Luncheon Postponed

On account of conflicting dates, the luncheon planned for Tuesday at the Pickaway Country Club was postponed. The date will be announced later.

Otterbein Guild

The Otterbein Guild held its monthly meeting Tuesday at the home of Miss Marcellette Kerr, Watt street.

Next month the Guild girls will send their Christmas box to the boys and girls in Puerto Rico.

After the business meeting the group studied conditions in Africa, Philippine Islands, China and Japan. They also planned their project for the next six months.

After the business delicious refreshments were served by Misses Marcellette Kerr, Betty Jane May and Mary Ruth Noggle.

Twelve members attended.

Art Sewing Club Picnic

Members of the Art Sewing club and their husbands enjoyed a picnic supper Tuesday evening at the Gold Cliff Chateau.

They report lots of fried chicken and other good things to eat. The evening was spent enjoying the park and watching the swimmers.

Included in the group were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shride, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stoffer, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Groce and niece Miss Lat-house from Portsmouth, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Imler, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Fred Newhouse, Miss Laura Mantle and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Valentine.

Past Chiefs' Picnic

Members of the Past Chiefs' club have decided to hold their picnic Sunday evening at the Gold Cliff Chateau instead of at the Logan Elm State Park as at first planned.

A basket supper will be served at 5:30 o'clock.

You Go—I Go Sewing Club

Mrs. Adah B. Wilson, W. High street, entertained members of the You Go—I Go sewing club at her home Tuesday afternoon.

Members enjoyed sewing and

81-Year-Old Woman Gets Her Citizenship Papers

Mrs. Jane Chynoweth, witty, gay and decidedly spry little lady, 81 years young, lives in a little brick house by the side of a tree lined street in Phoenix, Ariz., and boasts of two events—the arrival of a great-granddaughter, and her citizenship papers.

She has claimed America for her home ever since she was 14, when she sailed from her native town of St. Erth, in England. She had believed that she had been a citizen since her marriage to a young American 69 years ago. When, at his death three years ago, complications arose preventing her from receiving a pension, she was amazed to find herself an alien in a land which was the country of her heart.

In characteristic manner, her active mind found a solution. Last month she learned the preamble to the constitution carefully until she was thoroughly conversant with its meaning, brushed up on American history, and this, added to the knowledge she possesses of current political affairs, made her well-informed indeed.

evening a cold lunch was served by the hostess.

Additional guests present were Miss Blanche Ryan, Mrs. Harold Conrad, Miss Polly Kerns and Betty Lou Greeno of Columbus.

Mrs. Ralph Long will entertain the club at its next meeting.

Mrs. John Kerns was presented a gift from the class to show its appreciation for her faithfulness as a member and officer for the last several years.

The devotional program and games and contests were conducted by Mrs. Russell Jones.

Westminster Bible Class

Mrs. G. I. Nickerson, S. Court street, entertained members and a few friends of the Westminster Bible class at a social meeting at her home Tuesday evening.

She invited the guests to meet Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Amick of Newport, Tenn.

Last winter the Bible class sent a barrel of wearing apparel, toys and other useful articles to Rev. Amick to be used among the needy mountaineers in that section. The members were much interested in his account and that of Mrs. Amick of the life of these people and the work in the schools and churches.

Mrs. Amick told of the donation and preparing 600 Christmas presents for the children. Every afternoon for three weeks before Christmas was used to complete this task.

Enjoying the evening were Mrs. B. T. Hedges, Mrs. William Mack, Miss Blanche Mutschman, Miss Florence Duntun, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Paul Gearhart, Mrs. Harp VanRiper, Mrs. H. O. SCIENCE ADVISES AGAINST MEALS LOW IN NEEDED "BULK"

Reports ALL-BRAN Supplies This Dietary Adjunct

Scientific tests have shown that meals which miss the proper "bulk" tend to cause common constipation. This condition causes discomfort, and may lead to headaches, loss of appetite, even serious disease.

Avoid these faulty meals by adding Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to your menus. It supplies generous "bulk" in convenient form. This absorbs moisture, and gently exercises and cleanses the system. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and contains iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is often more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables as it does not break down within the body. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN may be served as a cereal with milk or cream. Sprinkle over soups, salads or other cereals. Or work into appetizing muffins, breads, waffles, etc. It adds a delicious nut-sweet flavor to your recipes.

How much better than taking patent medicines—sometimes harmful! ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE TO START SEPT. 1; EIGHTY YOUTHS RECEIVE CARDS

HENRY IS ONLY BACKFIELD MAN FROM 1935 '11'

Landrum Holds Hopes For Well-Trained, Hard Fighting Outfit

SEASON OPENS SEPT. 18

Number of Big Linemen Send Chances Higher

Eighty boys, from whom Coach Jack Landrum hopes to mould a successful football squad, received cards this week from the mentor advising them to report at the high school August 31 to receive uniforms. Practice will start the next day.

Coach Landrum hasn't the slightest idea what his starting squad will be like even though spring football was staged. Letter men are few, Don Henry being the only backfield man returning from last year's team. Line prospects, when the veterans are surveyed, are good. Rooney, Jackson, Flickard, Good, Adkins and several others look like real prospects, while several other youths did well in spring drills, including Red Lindsey, Jack Brown, Rich Weldon and a couple of others.

The coach sent cards to every boy he believed capable of distinguishing a football from a teapot in hopes of putting together a fast, fighting and well-trained aggregation.

The season opens Sept. 18 with Groveport here. Some of the tougher schools, Holy Rosary, Chillicothe and London have been dropped from the schedule and McArthur and Waverly added.

The Central Buckeye league schedule opens Oct. 2 with Delaware invading the local field. Westerville comes Oct. 9, Bexley on Oct. 16, then the Tigers go to Marysville Oct. 23. Pumpkin Show week, and visit Grandview Oct. 30 closing the league season.

The effort of school authorities to grow grass on the gridiron this summer went to naught because of the drought. The grass, sowed by Coach Landrum and several helpers, had a good start, but died because of lack of moisture.

ONCE-FAMOUS ATHLETE ARRIVES TO CHANGE SEX

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Zdenka Koubkova or Koubka, 24, once a famous woman athlete, arrived today for surgical operations that will complete a metamorphosis into a man.

Until five months ago Zdenka was a woman. An operation in Prague, Czechoslovakia, Zdenka's native city, on March 12, wrought a partial change in sex. One or two operations will complete the change.

GIRL, 13, WINNER OF SPRINGBOARD DIVING CONTEST

OLYMPIC POOL, BERLIN, Aug. 12.—(UP)—A sweep of the first three positions in the springboard diving, led by 13-year-old Marjorie Gestring of Los Angeles, pushed America's women swimmers into the lead in the defense of their Olympic team title today. All of Uncle Sam's men swimmers qualified easily for the semifinals of the 100-meter backstroke event.

Miss Gestring, who won the U. S. Indoor national title this year, won the championship before 15,000 spectators in a thrilling duel with Kinky-haired Katherine Rawls of Miami Beach. Third was Mrs. Dorothy Poynton Hill of Los Angeles, defending Olympic platform diving champion.

FOUR CARDINALS BANISHED AFTER SECOND DISPUTE

Decision At Second Base Results in Fan Taking Swing at Umpire

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(UP)—The bell sounds for round three in the Cubs-Cardinals "brawl" series today.

For the record, the score stands at one game apiece with the Cubs of Chicago two percentage points up on the Cardinals of St. Louis in the battle for first place in the National league.

"Off the record," the count is one first fight, two players fined, three players and a coach banished, and one umpire assaulted in a throwback to baseball's rough-and-tumble days.

Four Expelled

The opening game's Dizzy Dean-Tex Carleton grudge fight for which President Ford ("They Shall Not Fraternize") Frick let the combatants off with fines of $25 each, paled before the hectic windup to yesterday's game which the Cubs won, 6-4, in ten innings.

The trouble started when a Cardinal rally was nipped by a double play in the ninth. The Cards said Bill Jurges, pivot man, didn't touch second base. They argued so heatedly Umpire Bill Stewart ejected four of them—Shortstop Leo Durocher, Rip Collins, who had been up as a pinch hitter, Coach Buzz Wares and Jess Haines.

A St. Louis rooster leaned from a box to take a punch at Stewart and feeling ran so high the arbiter was escorted to the clubhouse by players and police. Fans milled about the clubhouse for 15 minutes but police held the fort.

GIVENS COLLECT TWO HITS FROM DAVIS' TOSSES

Jaggy Davis, who has tried infield and outfield duties with more or less success, went to town as a pitcher Tuesday evening, issuing two hits to the Given Oils and winning for Clarence Helvering's Cities Service Oil, 10 to 1.

The Givens tallied a single in the first frame and their second hit came in the fifth, a long home run to left field by Weaver.

The Cities Service boys had little trouble touching the slants of Bob Jones for plenty of runs. Tonight finds the Circleville Oils and Eschelman Feeds tangle.

RED BIRDS HURT ST. PAUL CHANCE TO GAIN IN A. A.

BY UNITED PRESS
The Columbus Red Birds yesterday battered St. Paul's bid for Milwaukee's place at the top of the American association as the Saints were beaten the second time.

Cullop hit two home runs and Winsett chalked up his 41st hit this year as the Birds laid on Cox and Hutchinson for 19 hits and walked the Saints 14 to 7.

Meanwhile, Milwaukee walked firmly out in front with a 6 to 0 victory over Indianapolis, delivered by the 4-hit pitching of Joe Heyling. It gave the Brewers a lead of four and a half games.

Kansas City, a club known for up-and-down baseball, won a 19-4 victory over Louisville, then dropped the second game of a twin bill, 2 to 1, last night. Page was credited with pitching the first game victory. In the second Tising of the Colonels and Evans of the Blues each allowed 4 hits, with Tising getting the best backing.

About This And That In Many Sports

Gaiety Mite 10 to 1

Harry Short's horse, Gaiety Mite, is 10 to 1 in the Hambletonian feature race for harnessed horses at Goshen, N. Y., this afternoon — It would be a real feather in Harry's hat if he could win the top prize, but a place among the winners would be welcome — The favorite is Rosalind, 7 to 5; Ed Lasater is 8 to 5, and then come Brownie Hanover and Ruth M. Mac at 7 to 1. ***

Need New President

The Pickaway County Coach's association, organized last year, will need a new president for the next year with Bob Terhune becoming a superintendent — Carl Burger of Pickaway would be a logical choice since he served as an officer last winter. ***

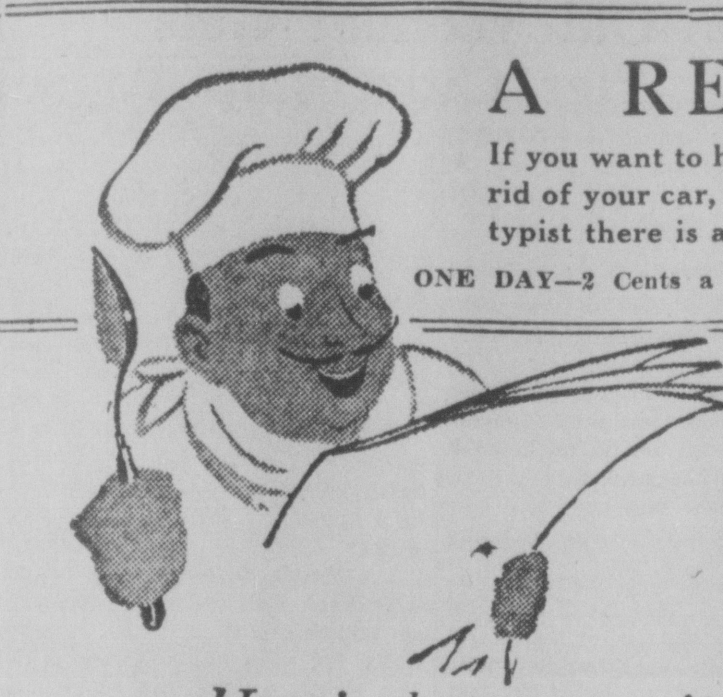

Training Demanded

Tiger coach, Jack Landrum, is insisting on just one thing out of his football candidates this fall, and that is: "TRAIN," with capital letters — Any boy who does not intend to train during the entire season need not ask for a uniform, the mentor said — Landrum may visit Evanston, Ill., during the last two weeks of the summer while the college all-stars and Detroit Lions are training for their game — There will be some pointers available, Jack believes. ***

Airing Rate High

Radio broadcasts of Ohio State University's home football games this fall will be, in all probability, devoid of advertising "plugs," R. C. Higgy, Ohio State radio director, announced air rights for home games will be available to anyone who wishes to broadcast them — providing they have the price. The rates for broadcasts through OSU, the university station, are $100 a game, or $250 for the entire home schedule — Stations that wish to broadcast their own versions can do so for $250 a game, or $750 for the season. For networks the price is $500 a broadcast, not including line charges and announcers' and engineers' expenses — The broadcasts cannot be sold to sponsors except in the visiting teams' home territory, and then only with the visiting team's consent. ***

Anita Louise Added to List of Crosby's Stars; Hildegarde to Sing

YOUNG ACTRESS TAKES PLACE OF OBERON ON HOUR

Horace Heidt, Hal Kemp
Substitution For
Wayne King

Anita Louise, a lovely blonde leading lady of the movies who hasn't been heard very often on the air, makes up for this oversight by coming to the Music Hall next Thursday, August 13, as Bing Crosby's guest. Merle Oberon who was scheduled for this program will be unable to appear.

The other guest stars, besides Miss Louise, who will help Bing in entertaining the customers in the broadcast over a WEAF-NBC network at 9:00 p. m. (EST) are Allison Skipworth, veteran comedy and character star of the screen; Josephine Tumminia, young coloratura soprano of the San Francisco Opera and the movies and Louis Armstrong, ace of the torrid trumpeters.

Bob Burns will be back after a one-week absence with stories of Arkansas and Jimmy Dorsey's orchestra and the Paul Taylor chorus will assist Bing musically.

HILDEGARDE TO SING

Straight from entertaining the heavyweight boxing champion of the world on his program, Frank Fay next Friday, August 14, brings a champion of the singing profession to the "Frank Fay Calling" broadcast, over a WJZ-NBC network at 7:30 p. m. (EST). She is Hildegarde, the entertainment sensation from the smart clubs of England and the continent who has just returned to America, her native land.

Hildegarde, a choir singer from the Middle West, dropped her last name when she packed up and went abroad a few years ago to storm the entertainment capitals of Europe. Before long her unique songs and manner of singing had made her one of the most popular personalities on the other side of the Atlantic. She was the first foreign artist to get a contract with the British Broadcasting company. Her return to this country not long ago brought a variety of offers from producers here and she made her first radio appearance on Rudy Vallee's program.

Now Frank is bringing her to his weekly broadcast as the guest to follow the pugilistic James J. Braddock who appeared last Friday night. Mr. Fay will of course be in charge of the show and he plans a song or two of his own in addition to Hildegarde's.

RADIO NOTES: While Wayne King vacations in California, during August, Horace Heidt and Hal Kemp will substitute for the Waltz King on the Lady Esther Serenade programs. . . . Ray Noble left last week for England on a three-week vacation. He was accompanied by Mrs. Noble. On his return in September he will succeed Al Donahue in the Rainbow Room. . . .

Henry Ford is branching out in more radio. In addition to his Detroit Symphony hour and the two popular spots usually filled by Fred Waring but occupied now by Tommy Dorsey and B. A. Rolfe, he has Bob Crosby doing a series of transcriptions for local stations throughout the country. . . . Artie Shaw and his string swing band replace Bob Crosby at the Hotel Lexington in New York August 21. Peg La Centra, who in the past has had her own individual spots on NBC, is to be Shaw's vocalist. Crosby will go on a series of one-nighters. . . . Louis Armstrong, hot orkster, is in California where he'll appear in Bing Crosby's next flicker, "Pennies from Heaven". . . . Melba Bordeaux, ex-vocalist with Felix Ferdinand (whose music you've heard on CBS), is singing Felix for alleged back pay. . . . Ted Florio's band will reopen the Terrace Room, at Chicago's Morrison, come Thursday, September 14. . . . Guy Lombardo has just bought a bang-tail named Lullaby; maybe it'll sing its competitors to sleep. . . . Dick Himber's latest tune, "Am I Asking Too Much?" is to be followed by "Farewell to Swing". . . . Joe Sanders will close at Chi's Blackhawk September 15, take a vacation, do six weeks of one-nighters, and then play at the Palomar Ballroom, Los Angeles, and later at Frisco's St. Francis. . . . On its toes is the new Consolidated Radio Artists agency which has signed Ben Pollack and Fletcher Henderson. Pollack goes to Meadowbrook Club, St. Louis, on August 13.

army as a new, dangerous complication in Europe's troubled affairs, it was learned today.

Joachim Von Ribbentrop, new German ambassador to Great Britain, is expected to cite the army increase in an effort to enlist British co-operation in Germany's opposition to the French and Czechoslovakian military treaties with Russia.

If Britain agreed to support the German argument, one of the greatest single aims of German foreign policy would have been achieved.

Russia's announced increase was called here another move in an effort to force Russian influence on Europe—a continent, in the official German belief, to which Russia rightly does not even belong.

tively on the chief question at issue—the custody of their four-year-old daughter. Under the terms of this "working basis for settlement," it was said, Miss Astor would have custody of Marilyn during the school year or approximately nine months a year; Dr. Thorpe would have his daughter during the summer vacation; Miss Astor would have her during the Christmas holidays; other holidays would be apportioned; both parents would have the right of reasonable visits during the periods the child was in the other's custody.

Miss Astor wanted her former husband to return her diary forthwith. Dr. Thorpe was said to have refused arbitrarily, wishing to use it again as evidence should Miss Astor seek Marilyn's full custody at any time in the future. Her attorney, Roland Rich Woolley, said his client was indignant at Dr. Thorpe's attitude. She testified that he had stolen it. His attorney released excerpts from the diary, particularly those describing her romance with Kaufman, although none of it has been introduced in evidence.

To Confer Again

Woolley took a slightly more optimistic view than his client.

"We probably will go into conference with Judge Knight to determine whether a settlement can be reached," he said.

In the background, the movie industry was exerting a powerful pressure. Miss Astor's future is wrapped up entirely in celluloid. Dr. Thorpe's medical practice is in the film colony.

It was reported that the reaction of movie fans to the courtroom revelations had been reaching Hollywood, alarming high executives, always sensitive following the repeated scandals of the early days of the films, even more than they had been before.

It was reported that the Legion of Decency had inquired why the executives had permitted the trial to continue. The Legion, with strong religious backing, has millions of members pledged to boycott pictures proscribed by it. A boycott applied to pictures in which Miss Astor plays might cause a severe financial loss as well as end the career of one of the screen's best-known performers.

Knight Ends Name-Calling If Case Continues

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12—(UP)—Despite terrific pressure from leaders of the movie industry, Mary Astor and her former husband Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, bogged down early today in their efforts to settle their differences privately, out of court.

The red-headed film star was unmistakably angry and determined after a series of conferences between her counsel and counsel for Dr. Thorpe. She said:

"All I can say is that it looks like I will have to go on fighting."

She already had braved scandal of the type that has ruined careers of other celluloid heroines, and her friends did not doubt her ability to fight to the bitter end over the one issue said still to remain—the custody of her diary, in which she described extra-marital love affair with George S. Krufman, the playwright, with many allusions, of a nature unknown, to persons prominent in the movie world.

Report to Court

Today the rival attorneys will appear before Judge Goodwin J. Knight to report on the progress of negotiations the court ordered yesterday. It may be that he may persuade one side or the other to give ground, or the attorneys may settle the issue before they meet him. But if both fail, the trial will go on—with the name-calling and the "mud-slinging" rigidly curtailed by Judge Knight.

Miss Astor and Dr. Thorpe were reported to have agreed tentatively.

Arrangement was made for a luncheon aboard the showboat Moses Cleaveland, moored at a pier abutting from the exposition grounds on Cleveland's lake front. The president's visit coincides with the opening session of the convention in Cleveland of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin's National Union for Social Justice, transferring the spotlight from that group for the day.

M'PHERSON ACTS TO END BOGGS MOUND PROTEST

Curator Of State History Society Says Removal Is Only Temporary

NEW FOUNDATION PLANNED

Careful Study Made Before Improvements Started

COLUMBUS, Aug. 12—(UP)—The Boggs family monument will not be removed from Logan Elm state park in Pickaway county, Harry R. McPherson, curator of parks of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society, said today.

Will J. Graham, Circleville mayor, had protested against removal of the monument, in memory of the family which donated the land on which the state park is located, in a telegram to Governor Davey.

Removal Temporary McPherson said the monument had been removed only temporarily because of a WPA improvement project. He said the monument would be restored not more than 10 feet from its original site. It will have a new foundation.

Careful consideration to the improvement project was given by the society, according to McPherson.

Governor Davey made no comment on the matter.

Borah, Robinson Lead In Primary Elections

Idaho Man Leading Townsend-Backer Opponent, While Roosevelt Supporter Runs Well; Next Florida Solon Pensionite

BY UNITED PRESS

Two senate veterans—William C. Borah and Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas—seemed assured of renomination today as returns from yesterday's primaries were counted.

Borah seemed a certain victor over one opponent, running with the backing of the Townsend Old Age pension organization, in the Idaho Republican primary.

Robinson won over two opponents in the Arkansas Democratic primary.

In Florida, the Townsend organization scored a win when its candidate, Judge Charles O. Andrews, won the Democratic nomination for the senate seat vacated by the death of Park A. Trammell. In Florida, the Democratic nomination is equivalent to election.

Borah had 3,091 votes to 1,335 for Bryon Defenbach, his Townsend-backed opponent, in returns from 16 of the state's 44 counties. Defenbach is a conservative Republican who yesterday was nominated by a state Townsend convention to assure him a place on the November ballot in event of his defeat by Borah.

Gov. C. Ben Ross led in the Democratic senatorial race. Ross has predicted that he would give Borah "A bad licking" in November. He was opposed in the primary by John C. Carver, blind U. S. district attorney.

Robinson 26,932. Cleveland Holland 7,405. J. Rosser Venable 4,309.

Robinson ran as a New Deal candidate. His opponents charged that he had "tied himself onto the tails of the Roosevelt Administration."

Judge Andrews, of Orlando, defeated former Gov. Doyle E. Carlton. Carlton conceded his defeat early today when the United Press tabulation of 933 of the 1,326 precincts gave Andrews 56,477, Carlton 52,764.

GERMANY EXPRESSES FEAR

Von Ribbentrop Tells Brits Russia's Army Dangerous

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12—(UP)—The United States today took the lead in an international movement to localize the civil war in Spain with a forthright declaration of this government's strict neutrality.

This pronouncement, made with diplomatic finesse to avoid formal recognition that a state of civil war exists in Spain, was made public here while the governments of Europe still were wrangling over proposals for joint action by Spain's neighbors to declare themselves neutral.

The state department already has begun exertion of "moral suasion" to discourage American firms from selling or exporting war materials to either faction in Spain. Several American airplane manufacturing concerns were believed to have been dissuaded from accepting orders for airplanes from the warring Spanish factions.

Revealed by Phillips

The government's attitude on policy regarding the Spanish revolution was revealed by the state department in making public a circular of instruction sent by Acting Secretary of State William Phillips on Aug. 7 to all American diplomatic and consular representatives in Spain. In this circular Phillips declared that "this government's position thus far has been and will continue to be" one of "non-interference with internal affairs in other countries, either in time of peace or in the event of civil strife."

"This government," he declared, "will, of course, scrupulously refrain from any interference whatsoever in the unfortunate Spanish situation."

NEGRO TO CLAIM INSANITY LED TO CO-ED'S MURDER

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 12—(UP)—An insanity plea for Martin Moore will be made next Tuesday when the lanky, 22-year-old negro goes to trial on a charge of slaying Helen Clevenger, 19-year-old New York co-ed.

J. S. Styles, Asheville attorney named to aid in the defense of Moore, said today he will ask Judge Donald Phillips to permit two alienists to examine the negro.

The Duncombe county grand jury will meet Monday and Moore is expected to go to trial before Judge Phillips Tuesday on charges of first degree murder and first degree burglary.

Court attaches do not believe the trial will be delayed by the insanity plea, however.

Sheriff Laurence E. Brown announced Sunday that the negro confessed going into the co-ed's hotel room early July 16, shooting and beating her when she screamed. The sheriff will question Moore further today to learn whether he intended to assault the girl. Moore has maintained that he entered her room only for robbery.

LABOR TO KEEP NEUTRALITY

Federation Is Non-Partisan
President Tells Newsmen
In An Interview

LEWIS FAVORING F.D.R.

Data To Be Sent To Unions
To Determine Own Stand

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(UP)—President William Green declared the neutrality of the American Federation of Labor in the national election today.

The federation will cling to its traditional nonpartisan policy despite the efforts of the non-partisan labor league to organize a labor front for the re-election of President Roosevelt, and despite the raising of the labor issue against Gov. Alf M. Landon by John L. Lewis, George L. Berry and other labor leaders, Greene said in an interview.

Contrasts Others
His insistence on the federation's strict non-political status was in sharp contrast to the anti-Landon speeches by Lewis, Berry, Sidney Hillman and others before the newly formed pro-Roosevelt league at its first national convention here this week.

Green made it plain the league could make no claim of general federation backing.

"The American Federation of Labor is not in the league," he said. "What the federation is doing this year is to pursue its own non-partisan political policy."

"He will not formally endorse any candidate this fall. Our non-partisan committee will merely prepare parallel reports on the labor records of the two chief candidates and of the platforms."

"We will send out all data to our membership. They will have to make up their minds."

Green said procedure of the federation had been decided last year at its convention.

"The Atlantic City convention decided officially that we would pursue a non-partisan political policy," he said.

STATUS OF OHIO FAIR WAGE CODE SEEN UNCERTAIN

COLUMBUS, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Whether minimum wage scales for women and minors employed in Ohio hotels and restaurants will be enforced under a mandatory order after October 1, is an undecided question, O. B. Chapman, state director of industrial relations, indicated today.

The wage scale now is fixed by a directory order, which took effect July 1. The only penalty for violation is official publication of the names of employers who fail to comply with the directory order.

After this order has been operative for three months, the director of industrial relations is permitted but not required to make it mandatory, after a further hearing. Violators of a mandatory order are subject to fine or imprisonment.

Chapman said he will decide his course later with regard to possible issuance of a mandatory order.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U. S. Patent Office by STANLEY

"Knock, Knock" Craze Is Sweeping Over City

Knock, knock, who's there?

It's all very confusing.

First there was the chain letter dilemma. Everybody was dashing off five copies and foisting off rewrites to relatives. All operated on the old swimming hole principle of "last one in the water is an old maid," or get your dime and to heck with the others.

Then John Public became obsessed with the "handies" craze. Staid front porch rockers with a profound penchant for thumb twiddling suddenly discovered they could make "Gosh, what is it?" gestures to the befuddlement of unsuspecting friends.

These friends in turn pounced on other persons and repeated such motions as depicting broken phonograph records, rain falling and grass growing, etc. Gradually the foolishness disappeared, but not until many stolid citizens practically went off the deep end of berseknass.

Now comes "knock, knock."

Musicians Lead

The primary perpetrators are orchestra leaders and musicians at large. The business starts off with a song in which a double thump on a mythical door is intoned. A chorus immediately responds "Who's there?" The leader retorts "Luther." He is queried "Luther who?" and stooges lispily swing back with "Luthers weepers, finders keepers," and the name symphony is on.

Other sequences which are filling the radio loudspeakers of the land with sudden puns and the listeners hearts with mayhem go as follows: "Knock, knock, who's there?" "Andy." "Andy who?" "Andy down my walking cane." "Again, 'Who's there?' "Oscar." "Oscar who?" "Osk her no questions, she'll tell you no lies." Thus far into many stanzas the dizzy choruses repeat with alleged witticisms tacked on to every modern song title, motto or what's available.

No Defense

Now with the chain letter plague there was a defense. The chaine could always sneak his own name in at the top of the list and forget about forwarding the dime of the ex-top name.

Likewise with "handies" the subject could counter with "What's this?" and poke his finger in the perpetrator's eye or wear horse blinders. But against the "knock, knock" craze there seems to be no pain killer as the insane queries can sneak in over the radio or be heard shouted from passing automobiles.

Anyhow, when somebody croons "Knock, knock, who's there?" you might try the evasive reply, "nobody home" and run like everything.

The sham battle of odors that occurs in most so-called modern refrigerators just doesn't happen in the new Air Conditioned ICE Refrigerator. The cantaloupe, the butter, the fish and the salad dressing retain their original flavors just as if each were alone in the refrigerator. This is why: The FRESH — MOIST — CIRCULATING air in this new type refrigerator washes all surplus odors down the drain instead of back into other foods. Just one month with this new refrigerator on the job will convince you it's the last word in modern food protection. See the latest models on display today at ...

FARM NEWS

Brief Items of Interest to Pickaway Farmers

Lawrence county farmers who had clover seedlings killed by hot, dry weather, are asking county Agricultural agent Stanley Porter for information on ways to reseed the fields to comply with regulations of the soil conservation program.

Only two reactors were discovered in testing 2,492 Crawford county cattle for bovine tuberculosis. The report covers two townships where the testing has been completed. County Agent Russell L. Miller reports two additional veterinarians are now engaged in testing cattle in the remaining townships.

The 1936 crop of green peas will make a pack of about 17,000,000 cases of No. 2 cans, as compared with 24,698,000 cases picked from the 1935 crop. There is some carryover of last year's pack to partially offset the reduction. The Ohio crop of green peas was short along with that of the other principal producing states except Oregon and Washington where conditions were favorable.

Failure to inoculate seeds of legumes before planting them is responsible for many failures to get seedlings, according to R. H. Morrish, agronomist, Soil Conservation Service, Zanesville. The cost of inoculating seed enough to plant an acre of ground is only a few cents, and seed should be treated unless the ground has previously produced a successful crop of the legume. Vetch and alfalfa need inoculation as well as clover and alfalfa.

Remember When?

Local Eagles lodge was organized.

OHIOANS OBTAIN MORE CASH FOR SUPPLY OF EGGS

COLUMBUS, Aug. 12—Ohio potato growers should remember that although the plants make little growth in hot weather, the new growth which will start rapidly in cool periods will need the protection of the proper sprays.

The old formulae for bordeaux mixtures to be used in Ohio are still recommended by E. B. Tusing, specialist in vegetable crops, Ohio State University. The spray mixtures which are being used by growers in other states have not been tested thoroughly in this state and the differences in air temperatures may make them less efficient here.

A 4-4-50 bordeaux mixture or a 4-6-50 mixture made with hydrated lime has been proved satisfactory for use in Ohio. Calcium arsenate should be added to the bordeaux mixture if flea beetles are present in the potato fields. Growers who apply dusts should use a 20-80 mixture.

None of the sprays do much unless the nozzles of the sprayer are adjusted so the protective materials are placed on the vines. Every grower should check the adjustment of his sprayer to find how much spray is being thrown on the plants and how much is applied on the ground.

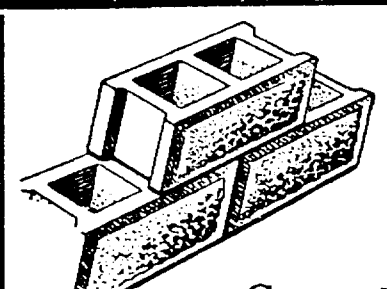

The most recent estimate of the 1936 potato yield places the harvest as the smallest since 1925. It seems probable that the price for potatoes this year will be good enough so that an effort should be made to protect the plants as much as possible from insect and disease injury.

STATE WORKERS TAKE WATER TO FOUR COUNTAINS

"AS MAINE GOES"

MAINE will vote September 8 for Governor, United States senator and three members of the House of Representatives, and the consequences is that between now and then the state will reverberate to oratory by outside national speakers of both parties. It is a racket. The early Maine election puts the major parties on the quiver. That is because of the old, but undemonstrable, adage, "As Maine goes, so goes the Presidential election." Therefore the national committees pour in speakers and the state committees are so much in pocket.

Professor Claude E. Robinson of Columbia University in June, 1932, published a long and analytical article in The Political Science Quarterly to demonstrate reliance on the prophecy was not to be had. Along came September. Maine went Democratic with a whoop and two months later Roosevelt won. The prophecy worked that time anyway.

So it has worked seventeen out of twenty-four times in the elections from 1840 to 1932, inclusive. There is, however, a joker in it. Maine is normally a strongly Republican state just as the country since 1856, or over a period of eighty years, has been normally Republican. Other states might be taken as goosebones for prophecy with just as substantial justification. The only reason they are not is the simple one their votes are not recorded until the Presidential votes are.

There is, of course, a psychological merit, but not a measurable one, in getting Maine to go the way of one's own party. That vests in the hope that a certain element of the electorate, which follows the trend and wants to be jubilating on election night as supporters of the winning side, may be influenced. This accounts for the fact, among others, that in the eighteen years between 1910 and 1928 the hardened Maine voters had to listen to three former Presidents or Vice Presidents, forty-three United States senators, thirteen Cabinet officers, 138 representatives in Congress, twenty-two Governors and others too numerous to name.

DEMOCRAT'S DRAFTING OF MURPHY

WASHINGTON — When President Roosevelt brought High Commissioner Frank Murphy back from the Philippine Islands and persuaded him to run for Governor of Michigan, Democratic strategists purred with satisfaction.

Young, able, popular, the red-headed Irishman has been a powerful vote-getter in Wayne County, which includes Detroit. The name Murphy has worked miracles in the county; at least fourteen office-holders owe their election to his endorsement.

With Murphy heading the state ticket, New Dealers figured that the chances of the President carrying Michigan would be greatly enhanced. This was a reasonable conjecture, but reason doesn't always rule in politics.

When Murphy announced for the governorship with the President's blessing, a mad rush was started by other Irishmen to climb on his bandwagon. The result has been a complete Irish slate, with the single exception of the candidate for U. S. Senator.

But it happens that in Michigan the Poles not only are numerous but politically potent. In 1934 they elected three of their men to Congress from Detroit. And Murphy's all-Irish ticket in the Democratic primary has so infuriated the Poles that they are swearing vengeance.

Republicans, meanwhile, have been quick to take advantage of this threatened split. They are running George W. Welsh, former G. O. P. Lieutenant-Governor, for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination against Murphy.

What will be the outcome of this jumble is anybody's guess. But one thing appears certain. Mr. Murphy's candidacy may not prove the boon the Administration so confidently thought it would be.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE

The criss-crossing of party lines in this year's elections is graphically illustrated by the following:

Joseph N. Pew, of Philadelphia, multimillionaire head of the Sun Oil Company and one of the "Big Three" Republican bosses of Pennsylvania, contributed to the recent campaign to defeat Representative Maury Maverick, militant New Deal Democrat of San Antonio, Tex., in the primary. In other words, Pew, a Republican, put up money to nominate a rival Democrat.

Despite a large fund by utility, oil and other business interests, Maverick beat his Democratic rival by more than 7,000 votes. Although this was 256 votes shy of the plurality necessary to avoid a run-off, Maverick's opponent had had enough and withdrew, thus ensuring Maverick's reelection.

ing cigarettes has not, up to now, been the leading road to fame. There is no basic reason why it should not be, however. Some deeply dyed pessimists have been heard to wonder out loud just why some of our most admired ladies of the screen got where they have, and this may be an answer.

Grasping firmly its nettle, Nicaragua goes American grandly, and results prove the soundness of the theory, at least from the viewpoint of the cigarette company. The nation will await, palpantly, the final choice of the Nicaraguan Mary Pickford.

Love isn't Important

By LOUISE JERROLD

READ THIS FIRST: Gay Elwell, check girl in a prominent Detroit, most popular of social elite when she fills in at a dinner party at the request of Dr. Wilson, a club member. One is Brock Carter who is very friendly toward Gay; another, Wayne Adams is Brock's brother and Christian Scott and Tim Keenan, two millionaires, are his friends. Gay is very friendly toward Gay; another, Wayne Adams is Brock's brother and Christian Scott and Tim Keenan, two millionaires, are his friends. Gay is very friendly toward Gay; another, Wayne Adams is Brock's brother and Christian Scott and Tim Keenan, two millionaires, are his friends.

CHAPTER 20

TIM SMILED when Gay said "Love isn't important." "How young you sound! But have it your own way. Some women just aren't the home-and-fireplace type. Eleanor is. She loves children, and she loves making a home. When we get married, I'll be a father."

"I want sons and daughters of my own—and here's Eleanor waiting the best years of both our lives putting me off month after month—telling me she loves me, but that I must wait. Wait for what? It's her damnable family pride! She's jealous of the Randolph family reputation!"

He demanded with a sudden fierceness that startled Gay almost out of her chair. "You're jealous, all you women, aren't you?"

"Why, y-yes, I suppose so—"

"Then why can't I make Eleanor jealous of me? She's too sure of me. Knows I'm not really serious when I take up with some little—"

He paused, his eyes darting toward Gay. "Listen. I have an idea! While she's away on this Paris buying trip, and the North Coast after that—let us play around together. I mean—I'll pretend I'm really falling for you in a big way. We'll play it up strong!"

His voice quickened with enthusiasm. "It's not a bad hunch. I know exactly what everyone will say—just another case of a middle-aged man falling head over heels in love with a beautiful working girl. We might even pretend we're engaged—"

—planning an elopement. Of course, some of Eleanor's good friends will hurry and let her know she's in danger of losing me completely. Get the idea?"

Gay laughed, incredulously. "It's impossible, Tim. Too melodramatic!"

He cried, "Let's give it a try, anyway. Make it a regular business contract. Name your price."

Gay shook her head. "It isn't a question of money."

Then the memory of Eleanor Randolph's friendly confidence in a check girl's honesty, in spite of unfavorable evidence, came back vividly to Gay's mind. Impulsively she leaped forward, and linked her hand in Tim's.

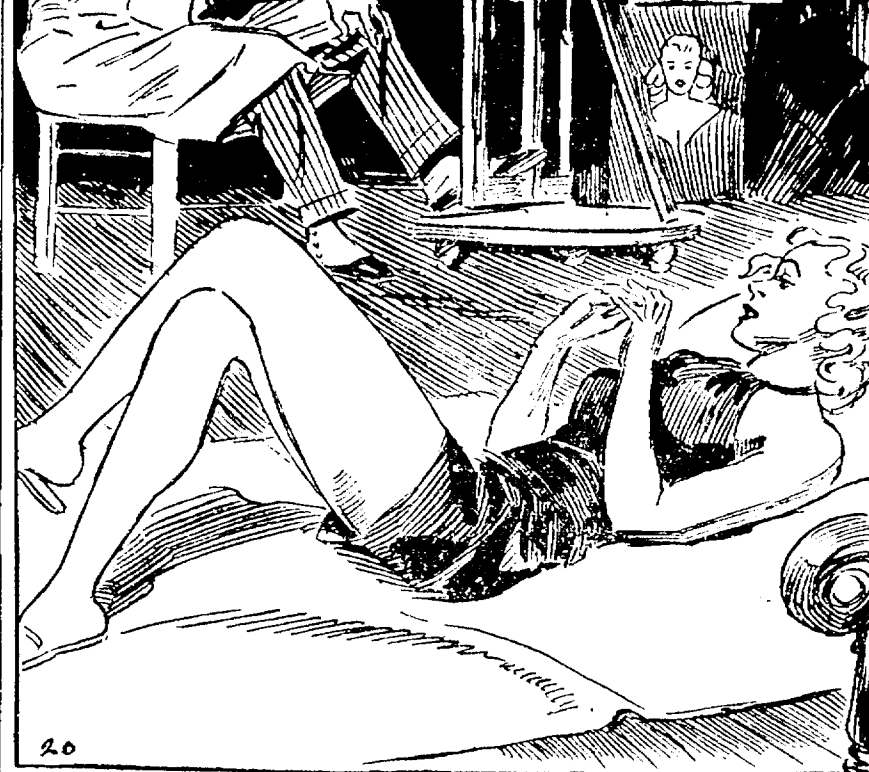

"I like you—and I admire Miss Randolph more than any woman I've met in Detroit. I'll be willing to do anything I can, to help you two get married."

Gay made her first appearance as artist's model on the Tuesday following that momentous visit to Tim Keenan's estate. She found posing in some ways easier, and in some ways far more difficult, than she had anticipated.

The studio was a big, barn-like room which Mark Vance had recently rented, on the top floor of an old house on Rowena street. Much to Gay's disappointment it displayed no tiger rugs, oil paintings, or Russian samovars: it was nothing but a wide expanse of carpeted floor space, with a very untidy kitchenette in the far alcove, a huge glass skylight above, and no furniture except two or three battered chairs, a screen, a model's platform, and the easel at which the artist worked. Nothing more different from Gay's room could possibly be imagined.

When she arrived promptly at three o'clock in the afternoon, Mrs. Vance opened the door.

"Come right 'n, Gay," she said, cordially. "Mark's not here yet, but he'll be along any minute." She led the way into the huge, bare room. "You're to undress in the corner there, behind the screen, and put on those bathing things Mark wants you to pose in."

Mark Vance flew to work.

While Gay was stepping out of her clothes, behind the tattered screen, Mrs. Vance kept up a rapid conversation.

"This silly story Mark's illustrating is set in Palm Beach, I believe. You're supposed to be loitering on the lovely white sand, day-dreaming. Heaven only knows how you'll manage to lol on that hard platform, but maybe we can dig up an old quilt or something for you to lie on. I hope you don't collect too many splinters!"

Mark arrived soon, and Gay stepped out from behind the self-conscious screen, feeling rather self-conscious. She had wound a bright red bandanna about her hair, and slid her feet into long, narrow red slippers. As for the bathing suit, Gay felt positive no one would wear such a costume in public. It was white silk, terribly low in front, with two straps crossing like a child's sun-suit in back, and going into brief, straight panties at the bottom.

"That's my own pet bathing costume," declared Mrs. Vance. "I only wish I looked half as adorable in it as you do." She glanced toward her husband. "You were quite right, Mark. She's exactly the type."

The artist's manner was businesslike as he spoke to Gay. "Now, Miss Elwell, before we start, I'd like to tell you that I'm one of those foolishly conscientious artists who try to make their illustrations follow the story. So if you'll listen to the first installment of this yarn, you'll get the feel of the thing—have some idea of the poses we'll want. Charlotte, find the manuscript will you, and read to me while I get set."

Obediently, Charlotte Vance read aloud from the type script, and Gay learned that she was now Vivien Bennett, debutante, spending the winter at Palm Beach. She found the first pose ridiculously easy. She lay on a folded blanket a "crossed her legs with nonchalant ease, one red slipper braced on the floor, the other hanging loosely, showing her pretty bare foot and arched instep."

"Good girl! Hold it!" Mark declared. "And in him," added Charlotte Vance, meaningly. "Grace thinks he's terribly attractive!"

In fact, it was at Mrs. Larri more's suggestion that Wayne was now trying to sell the new Adams engine to one of the big Michigan motor companies.

"Ad's a great boy," Mark declared. "I'd bet my shirt on him. But he'll never make a business man. Too temperamental. He's nervous, right now, because Charlie Fenwick can't make up his mind about coming in on it—"

Evening—Good. This is an unusually fine day. It favors contracts and agreements.

Today's Birthdate You may feel that your work avails you nothing. It should help you to study your own horoscope.

Love affairs, travel, speculation and all forms of pleasure should be strong for you during October, 1936.

Danger from accidents, fire or rash actions from Sept. 9 through 16, 1936.

Socially favorable and good for buying clothes, entertaining or seeking favors from Nov. 7 through 11, 1936.

What the country needs more than anything else just now is a good, long spell of unpleasant rainy weather.

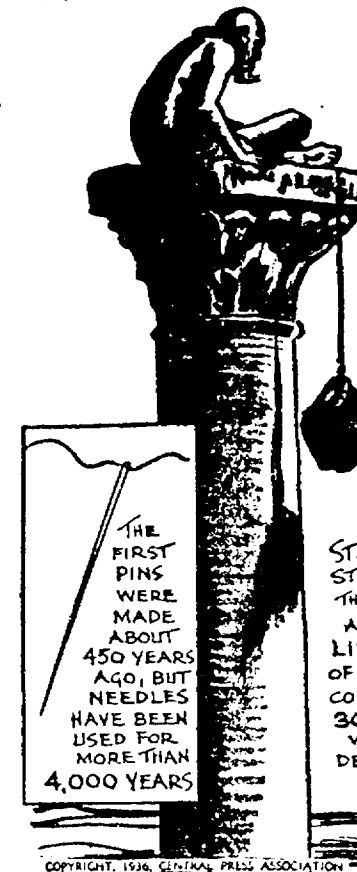

Rev. H. J. Duckworth of Mt. Sterling has been placed in charge of the Five Points, Mt. Sterling, Waterloo and Wilson chapel churches of Christ.

F. M. Fritsch has announced he will sell his Eagle Coopersage and his S. Court street property at auction. He plans to remove to Hamilton.

PERSONS most likely to be affected today are those who were born from June 21 through July 21.

Modern Life Made Easy for Mother

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D. THERE WAS a saying in the days of our fathers and grandfathers that, "You can't take care of a baby and do anything else." That of course, has been disproved in thousands of instances by the modern day mother who now earns part of the family income.

But in the days of our grandfathers and fathers, of even very recent date, things were not made so easy for the mother as they are now. Nobody guaranteed good milk, and even if the milk came from a good dairy, it had to be pasteurized and prepared at home. The formulas were unnecessarily cumbersome. Nowadays if she wishes, the young mother can buy canned milk that is every bit as good as fresh, and all she has to do is put the water back into it.

Canned vitamin foods and canned pureed vegetables for the only slightly older baby lessen the household burden.

Play pens and other safety devices, help to let the mother do something besides watch the child every minute.

The clothes question has been greatly simplified—more sensible, simpler, and less clothes, blankets that zipper around the neck and arms and can't be kicked off at night, knitted sheets for the crib that do not have any chill and do not need to be ironed. Many modern parents do not know what it is to be waked up at night.

Laundry Question Solved Even the diaper and laundry question is solved nowadays in most cities by a diaper service which supplies surgically sterilized diapers, wrapped in cellophane, furnishes a canvas bag for the soiled ones, and makes an exchange three times a week. I should think the mothers of this country would elect the man who had the idea president of the United States since there seems to be so much complaint about the present candidates.

The humble subject of diapers, unmentionable as it usually is except among the real workers of the world, has, however, been the subject of a good bit of scientific research.

I find the report of Ruth Howard Sayers, in the American Journal of Nursing. She took up the subject of diaper sizes. It must be a great puzzle to beginning mothers to find that diapers run in sizes, and even more puzzling to find different stores recommending different sizes. A Boston store representative says, "This is a 20x40 city," while the San Francisco merchant reports that her town is a 27x37 square. Yet there can't be so very much difference between Boston and San Francisco babies.

If the triangular fold is used (and I understand that it is quite out of fashion) two sizes will be needed—one for the new-born and one for a little later on. With the use of the oblong or Swedish fold, it is usually possible to use one size for this very interesting period in the human being's life—the standard 20x40 inches size. The panel fold, a quite recent innovation, consists in an extra thickness center panel, and can be easily adjusted as the baby grows by simply varying the width of the panel.

Dinner Stories A woman went into the bank to cash a check that had been made out to her by her husband. The teller said she would have to endorse it but she didn't seem to understand.

"Just sign your name on the back," instructed the teller. "But my husband has already signed it," she insisted, "and right on the front."

The teller took a deep breath and explained that her signature on the back would show her husband that she had got the money. With a smile of enlightenment she went to the desk, and finally handed the check in, triumphantly. It was signed: "Your loving wife, Clara."

WASHINGTON—Political probabilities lurk back of the labor situation of today.

If President Roosevelt is re-elected and it appears that President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers has been a very potent influence in re-electing him, Lewis will be a powerful figure.

Moreover, it will not be hard to surmise how efficiently Lewis succeeds in delivering his organization's vote to President Roosevelt. Its strength is concentrated in certain states and localities. How they go on Nov. 3 will furnish a pretty conclusive test of the reliability of his control over his supposed following.

Incidentally, Lewis hitherto was a Republican.

Employerism is vocally impressive but not numerous at the polls. The petty white collar folk (the consumers in general) are split every which-way.

Labor, as marshaled by the A. F. of L., has been pretty cohesive. It has called itself non-partisan. Nevertheless, its premier organ ("Labor," published in Washington) has made a practice of advising workmen for whom to vote.

Poems That Live

THE PINE The elm lets fall its leaves before the frost, The very oak grows shivering and sore, The trees are barren when the summer's lost; But one tree keeps its goodness all the year.

Green pine, unchanging as the days go by, Thou art thyself beneath whatever sky: My shelter from all winds, my own strong pine, 'Tis spring, 'tis summer, still, while thou art mine.

81-Year-Old Woman Gets Her Citizenship Papers

Mrs. Jane Chynoweth, witty, gay and decidedly spry little lady, 81 years young, lives in a little brick house by the side of a tree lined street in Phoenix, Ariz., and boasts of two events—the arrival of a great-great granddaughter, and her citizenship papers.

She has claimed America for her home ever since she was 14, when she sailed from her native town of St. Erth, in England. She had believed that she had been a citizen since her marriage to a young American 69 years ago. When, at his death three years ago, complica-tions arose preventing her from receiving a pension, she was amazed to find herself an alien in a land which was the country of her heart.

In characteristic manner, her active mind found a solution. Last month she learned the preamble to the constitution carefully until she was thoroughly conversant with its meaning, brushed up on American history, and this, added to the knowledge she possesses of current political affairs, made her well-informed indeed.

Additional guests present were Miss Blanche Ryan, Mrs. Harold Conrad, Miss Polly Kerns and Betty Lou Greene of Columbus.

SCIENCE ADVISES AGAINST MEALS LOW IN NEEDED "BULK"

Reports ALL-BRAN Supplies This Dietary Adjunct

Scientific tests have shown that meals which miss the proper "bulk" tend to cause common constipation. This condition causes discomfort, and may lead to headaches, loss of appetite, even serious disease.

Avoid these faulty meals by add-ing Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to your menus. It supplies generous "bulk" in convenient form. This absorbs moisture, and gently exercises and cleanses the system. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and con-tains iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is often more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables as it does not break down in the body. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN may be served as a cereal with milk or cream. Sprinkle over soups, salads or other cereals. Or work into ap-petizing muffins, breads, waffles, etc. It adds a delicious nut-sweet flavor to your recipes.

How much better than taking patent medicines—sometimes harm-ful! ALL-BRAN is sold by all gro-cers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE TO START SEPT. 1; EIGHTY YOUTHS RECEIVE CARDS

HARRY IS ONLY BACKFIELD MAN FROM 1935 '11'

Landrum Holds Hopes For Well-Trained, Hard Fighting Outfit

SEASON OPENS SEPT. 18

Number of Big Linemen Send Chances Higher

Eighty boys, from whom Coach Jack Landrum hopes to mould a successful football squad, received cards this week from the mentor advising them to report at the high school August 31 to receive uniforms. Practice will start the next day.

Coach Landrum hasn't the slightest idea what his starting squad will be like even though spring football was staged. Letter men are few, Don Henry being the only backfield man returning from last year's team. Line prospects, when the veterans are surveyed, are good. Rooney, Jackson, Flickard, Good, Adkins and several others look like real prospects, while several other youths did well in spring drills, including Red Lindsey, Jack Brown, Rich Wedon and a couple of others.

The coach sent cards to every boy he believed capable of distinguishing a football from a teapot in hopes of putting together a fast, fighting and well-trained aggregation.

The season opens Sept. 18 with Groveport here. Some of the tougher schools, Holy Rosary, Chillicothe and London have been dropped from the schedule and McArthur and Waverly added.

The Central Buckeye league schedule opens Oct. 2 with Delaware invading the local field. Westerville comes Oct. 9, Bexley on Oct. 16, then the Tigers on Oct. 23. Pumpkin Show week, and visit Grandview Oct. 30 closing the league season.

The effort of school authorities to grow grass on the gridiron this summer went to naught because of the drought. The grass, sowed by Coach Landrum and several helpers, had a good start, but died because of lack of moisture.

ONCE-FAMOUS ATHLETE ARRIVES TO CHANGE SEX

Until five months ago Zdenka was a woman. An operation in Prague, Czechoslovakia, Zdenka's native city, on March 12, wrought a partial change in sex. One or two operations will complete the change.

GIRL, 13, WINNER OF SPRINGBOARD DIVING CONTEST

OLYMPIC POOL, BERLIN, Aug. 12.—(UP)—A sweep of the first three positions in the springboard diving, led by 13-year-old Marjorie Gestring of Los Angeles, pushed America's women swimmers into the lead in the defense of their Olympic team title today. All of Uncle Sam's men swimmers qualified easily for the semifinals of the 100-meter backstroke event.

Miss Gestring, who won the U. S. indoor national title this year, won the championship before 15,000 spectators in a thrilling duel with Kinky-haired Katherine Rawls of Miami Beach. Third was Mrs. Dorothy Poynton Hill of Los Angeles, defending Olympic platform diving champion.

FOUR CARDINALS BANISHED AFTER SECOND DISPUTE

Decision At Second Base Results in Fan Taking Swing at Umpire

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(UP)—The bell sounds for round three in the Cubs-Cardinals "brawl" series today.

For the record, the score stands at one game apiece with the Cubs of Chicago two percentage points up on the Cardinals of St. Louis in the battle for first place in the national league.

"Off the record," the count is one fist fight, two players fined, three players and a coach banished, and one umpire assaulted in a throwback to baseball's rough-and-tumble days.

Four Expelled

The opening game's Dizzy Dean-Tex Carleton grudge fight for which President Ford ("I Shall Not Fraternize") Erick left the combatants off with fines of $25 each, paled before the hectic windup to yesterday's game which the Cubs won, 6-4, in ten innings.

The trouble started when a Cardinal rally was nipped by a double play in the ninth. The Cards said Bill Jurgens, pivot man, didn't touch second base. They argued so heatedly Umpire Bill Stewart ejected four of them—Shortstop Leo Durocher, Rip Collins, who had been up as a pinch hitter, Coach Buzz Wares and Jess Haines.

A St. Louis rooster leaned from a box to take a punch at Stewart and feeling ran so high the arbiter was escorted to the clubhouse by players and police. Fans yelled about the clubhouse for 15 minutes but police held the fort.

GIVENS COLLECT TWO HITS FROM DAVIS' TOSSES

Jaggy Davis, who has tried infield and outfield duties with more or less success, went to town as a pitcher Tuesday evening, issuing two hits to the Given Oils and winning for Clarence Helvering's Cities Service Oils, 10 to 1.

The Givens tallied a single in the first frame and their second hit came in the fifth, a long home run to left field by Weaver.

The Cities Service boys had little trouble touching the slants of Bob Jones for plenty of runs.

Tonight finds the Circleville Oils and Eschelman Feeds tangling.

RED BIRDS HURT ST. PAUL CHANCE TO GAIN IN A. A.

BY UNITED PRESS
The Columbus Red Birds yesterday battered St. Paul's bid for Milwaukee's place at the top of the American association as the Saints were beaten the second time.

Cullop hit two home runs and Winsett chalked up his 41st this year as the Birds laid on Cox and Hutchinson for 19 hits and walked the Saints 14 to 7.

Meanwhile, Milwaukee walked firmly out in front with a 6 to 0 victory over Indianapolis, delivered by the 4-hit pitching of Joe Heving. It gave the Brewers a lead of four and a half games.

Kansas City, a club known for up-and-down baseball, won a 19 to 4 victory over Louisville, then dropped the second game of a twin bill, 2 to 1, last night. Page was credited with pitching the first game victory. In the second Tising of the Colonels and Evans of the Blues each allowed 4 hits, with Tising getting the best backing.

About This And That In Many Sports

Gaiety Mite 10 to 1

Harry Short's horse, Gaiety Mite, is 10 to 1 in the Hambletonian feature race for harnessed horses at Goshen, N. Y., this afternoon — It would be a real feather in Harry's hat if he could win the top prize, but a place among the winners would be welcome — The favorite is Rosalini, 7 to 5; Ed Lasater is 8 to 5, and then come Brownie Hanover and Ruth M. Mac at 7 to 1.

Need New President

The Pickaway County Coaches' association, organized last year, will need a new president for the next year with Bob Terhune becoming a superintendent — Carl W. Burger of Pickaway would be a logical choice since he served as an officer last winter.

Training Demanded

Tiger coach, Jack Landrum, is insisting on just one thing out of his football candidates this fall, and that is: "TRAIN", with capital letters — Any boy who does not intend to train during the entire season need not ask for a uniform, the mentor said — Landrum may visit Evanston, Ill., during the last two weeks of the summer while the college all-stars and Detroit Lions are training for their game — There will be some pointers available, Jack believes.

Airing Rate High

Radio broadcasts of Ohio State University's home football games this fall will be, in all probability, devoid of advertising "plugs". R. C. Higgy, Ohio State radio director, announced air rights for home games will be available to anyone who wishes to broadcast them — providing they have the price. The rates for broadcasts through OSU, the university station, are $100 a game, or $250 for the entire home schedule — Stations that wish to broadcast their own versions can do so for $250 a game, or $750 for the season. For networks the price is $500 a broadcast, not including line charges and announcers' and engineers' expenses — The broadcasts cannot be sold to sponsors except in the visiting teams' home territory, and then only with the visiting team's consent.

THREE AMERICANS WIN FIGHTS IN OLYMPICS

BERLIN, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Americans won three bouts in the Olympic boxing tournament last night and might have won a fourth had not Chester Rutecki, Chicago welterweight, fallen victim to over-confidence.

Rutecki, opposed to Imre Mandi, a Hungarian, in a second-round encounter, floored his foe for a three-count with a right hook and took the opening round by a wide margin. Then he became careless, left himself wide open for Mandi's counter attack, and lost the last two rounds.

Jackie Wilson, rangy negro bantamweight from Cleveland, easily outpointed Alfredo Petron of Uruguay in a second round bout. He knocked him down in the opening round.

Theodore E. Kara, Cleveland featherweight, won by a technical knockout over Felipe Gabuco of the Philippines in the last round of a first round engagement. In another first round bout Andrew Scrivant, Chicago lightweight, outpointed Frederick John Simpson of Great Britain.

Anita Louise Added to List of Crosby's Stars; Hildegarde to Sing

YOUNG ACTRESS TAKES PLACE OF OBERON ON HOUR

Horace Heidt, Hal Kemp
Substitution For
Wayne King

Anita Louise, a lovely blonde leading lady of the movies who hasn't been heard very often on the air, makes up for this oversight by coming to the Music Hall next Thursday, August 13, as Bing Crosby's guest. Merle Oberon who was scheduled for this program will be unable to appear.

The other guest stars, besides Miss Louise, who will help Bing in entertaining the customers in the broadcast over a WEAF-NBC network at 9:00 p. m. (EST) are Allison Shipworth, veteran comedy and character star of the screen; Josephine Tuminia, young coloratura soprano of the San Francisco Opera and the movies and Louis Armstrong, ace of the torrid trumpeters.

Bob Burns will be back after a one-week absence with stories of Arkansas and Jimmy Dorsey's orchestra and the Paul Taylor chorus will assist Bing musically.

HILDEGARDE TO SING

Straight from entertaining the heavyweight boxing champion of the world on his program, Frank Fay next Friday, August 14, brings a champion of the singing profession to the "Frank Fay Calling" broadcast, over a WJZ-NBC network at 7:30 p. m. (EST). She is Hildegard, the entertainment sensation from the smart clubs of England and the continent who has just returned to America, her native land.

Hildegard, a choir singer from the Middle West, dropped her last name when she packed up and went abroad a few years ago to storm the entertainment capitals of Europe. Before long her unique songs and manner of singing had made her one of the most popular personalities on the other side of the Atlantic. She was the first foreign artist to get a contract with the British Broadcasting company. Her return to this country not long ago brought a variety of offers from producers here and she made her first radio appearance on Rudy Vallee's program.

Now Frank is bringing her to his weekly broadcast as the guest to follow the pugilistic James J. Braddock who appeared last Friday night. Mr. Fay will of course be in charge of the show and he plans a song or two of his own in addition to Hildegard's.

RADIO NOTES: While Wayne King vacations in California, during August, Horace Heidt and Hal Kemp will substitute for the Waltz King on the Lady Esther Serenade programs. . . . Ray Noble left last week for England on a three-week vacation. He was accompanied by Mrs. Noble. On his return in September he will succeed Al Donahue in the Rainbow Room. . . .

Henry Ford is branching out in more radio. In addition to his Detroit Symphony hour and the two popular spots usually filled by Fred Waring but occupied now by Tommy Dorsey and B. A. Rolfe, he has Bob Crosby doing a series of transcriptions for local stations throughout the country. . . . Artie Shaw and his string swing band replace Bob Crosby at the Hotel Lexington in New York August 21. Peg La Centra, who in the past has had her own individual spots on NBC, is to be Shaw's vocalist. Crosby will go on a series of one-nighters. . . . Louis Armstrong, hot orkster, is in California where he'll appear in Bing Crosby's next flicker, "Pennies from Heaven". . . . Melba Bordeaux, ex-vocalist with Felix Ferdinand (whose music you've heard on CBS), is suing Felix for alleged back pay. . . . Ted Fiorito's band will reopen the Terrace Room, at Chicago's Morrison, come Thursday, September 14. . . . Guy Lombardo has just bought a bang-tail named Lullaby; maybe it'll slug its competitors to sleep. . . . Dick Himber's latest tune, "Am I Asking Too Much?" is to be followed by "Farewell to Swing". . . . Joe Sanders will close at Chl's Blackhawk September 15, take a vacation, do six weeks of one-nighters, and then play at the Palomar Ballroom, Los Angeles, and later at Frisco's St. Francis. . . . On its toes is the new Consolidated Radio Artists agency which has signed Ben Pollack and Fletcher Henderson. Pollack goes to Meadowbrook Club, St. Louis, on August 13.
